

In 2014 Joyce began receiving occasional spontaneously channeled information from people who Charles or Joyce had known in this lifetime and had transitioned. Like the LBs, they would pop in for a short conversation.

She then connected with a man who was in a dreaming state and still alive in Saudi Arabia. He said he was beginning to question how his culture viewed outsiders, not of their immediate surroundings, as not necessarily being the 'same' as them. He also expressed great worry for his son, who had decided to join the Suni (ISIS) uprising in Syria, thinking it was the wrong thing to do. The LBs commented that his personality would not recall what had transpired when he awoke and his unexpected appearance was not recorded.

Joyce had a spontaneous channel on 11-30-14 which was recorded. For many months she had experienced great feelings of unexplained sadness and foreboding which would gradually disappear. That morning, her feeling of sadness, which had suddenly appeared again when she awoke, left just as suddenly after the channel, just as it did after the Saud's communication.

Joyce: My name is Aneva. I come to you to help you understand more of the .....I am finding it difficult to use this kind of mechanism to speak.

Q: Will it be easier if we ask questions?

Aneva: It is simply going to take some adjustment for me to get used to this way of communicating.

I was born on your planet in 1819, and I have lived several lives since then in countries that spoke often of violence, and experienced early demise in two of my lifetimes due to the wars that were taking place in the various provinces of the area.

Q: What area of the world was that?

Aneva: What you now call the Middle East, or the Iraq, Afghanistan area. It was a difficult life each time, and I did not want to reincarnate after the last time that I left the planet. I was only 23 and had already 4 children.

I am coming to you to help you understand the way of the people of that era, and even now of that area, so that you do not get caught in the sadness you are feeling. A very open heart can connect quite easily with those that are in pain, and can pick up the sadness and pain of the many women who are suppressed and not allowed to have any kind of life other than that of a servant. They may live well, be fed well, and have lots of amenities that one feels would make life easier, but they are not considered equal to the men and, therefore, not allowed to express who they really are. It is a very difficult life for those that are born of the fire signs; and even more difficult if they are born with fire and earth because it makes no sense at all to them, the attitudes that envelope their lives; and so many try to break out, and the results are usually death.

It will take many decades yet for the areas that are led by those that believe they are chosen, to break the traditions and the laws that surround women. It is not total hopelessness, but it is not going to be a way that one such as yourself can understand completely; such suppression. You chose not to ever incarnate since the time of your Avatar, Jesus, in such an environment. And even then, you were a young boy of the Jewish culture and followed that of your Avatar, and were stoned at 17 years old and left the planet. And so you have had no inclination to join that type of culture in many decades, but have been a part of another suppressed culture, that of your American Indian, but it was of a totally different type of suppression from the outside, and as a female you were a leader and allowed to be revered in your wisdom and choices made. So you have not had to experience what I am speaking to you about, but because of your ability to empathize, you are picking up many times the pain and suffering that is of women in the Middle East.

To help in any way, it will be only to educate to a small degree those around you about the cultures and how women are treated, and perhaps each person that is reached will put forth some positive thought processes; and every positive thought that is exuded on the planet has some effect. That is the only way that this culture of violence will ever change. It will take not just women, but also individual men, like the one that spoke to you recently, to begin questioning what is happening around them, and in their own way begin to open to a different way of being. And with each turn of, or change of thought, it will affect everyone that comes in contact with that person, and will continue to expand; causing people to question their method of belief and the culture they live in. That is the only way the violence will ever be stopped. Never will it be stopped with return violence; that only convinces those that believe that they are doing the right thing for their own salvation to continue in an even more violent way.

You have been chosen by your own decision made before you incarnated, to share some of your knowledge about thoughts, to help those of a questioning nature to understand how very important the thoughts are they exude and allow to permeate their being and surroundings, if they are to bring in any kind of peace to your planet. The planet has now reached a point where, for those of you that understand a difference between living in the light and living in the dark, this is more important than it has ever been. Because of your increased population, and those that have determined they are the elite or they deserve more than others on the planet, there is a great division. But the difference now, more than in other times in your history, is that those that are being suppressed are more educated in their lives and are therefore not willing to follow and accept the way things are at this time. And so, if there is not a change in the way things are, even in your own country, there will be a division that will not be pleasant. It is of great importance now for each of you that understand in a broader sense what living in an incarnated body is, to help expand the knowledge that will avoid the kind of revolution that could transpire.

I come to you only to give you the confidence that you need to move forward now in your progression and growth, for you to share the information that you will continue to receive from many that are not incarnated at this time and want to see the planet earth not be destroyed, but to see the possibilities of lives that could be full of joy, and fear not being the pervading emotion that is driving a huge number on your planet.
