

Joyce Cary, "I surround myself and the group with the Christ consciousness and the White light from within and from without. I ask that my ego and personality step aside so that I may be a clear vessel for information to come through from the highest source possible. And I ask that this information be for the benefit of any who read or hear it. And I thank you in advance."

Light Beings: Good evening.

Group: Hello.

LBs: This has indeed been an interesting evening and the energy has been much greater than we have experienced with you as a group before. So we congratulate you for moving forward and actually using some of the things you have been taught, and some of the things we have been speaking to you about for some time. So congratulations for making that first step. We hope you will continue with the learning of how to use your energy because it is the most powerful tool that you have.

Question#1 I'd like for you to repeat some of the key points that you made to Charlie when you talked to him last about the war, Saddam Hussein and our state of peace and any key points that you shared. If you could repeat them to us tonight it would be helpful.

LBs: It would be easier if you asked specific questions, but we will say to you that... It is necessary for you to understand that what is transpiring at this time is a situation that has been in the making for many, many years, and it is giving those a playground that need to experience conflict or to be able to experience the energies that are not particularly beneficial to mankind, but still are the energies that are a part of the polarity. One chooses to come on the earth plane to experience these polarities. And it is many times a choice before one comes to learn about certain things, and in this particular situation there are lessons in the use of power on both sides. One thing that will be available for the learning will be how to use power appropriately. And then there will be many that will abuse power in this situation, and in so doing, before they come back into another incarnational being, will be able to see how they abused the power, and will have the ability to come back again and use it in a different way. And this is where Saddam is going to play his game on the earth plane this time. He has come on the earth plane to learn about power, and before he actually leaves he is going to recognize that perhaps he has not used it to the best of his ability. He has misused it in many, many ways. And he will be given the opportunity to reincarnate at a later time and use that information to be able to be a great leader. This is difficult many times for you to understand, that because one may misuse power in one lifetime does not mean that they do not learn from that and are, perhaps, able then able to be of greater value in another time. Do you understand?

So it is simply a matter of allowing each to choose the lessons that they decide to learn. And it is for each of you to decide what part of this drama you want to be a part of, because you do not have to participate in the drama, and in a way that will bring fear to you, or in a way that you need to experience fear. You can understand and not particularly like what you are seeing or hearing, but not be attached to what transpires, because you as an individual entity must choose your own peace, or your choice is to be in fear. And that is really the most important thing for you to learn about this entire situation, is what your learning is, what your experience is. Each person on the planet will be given an opportunity at some time to understand what conflict is about because that is the duality that is part of the learning. And so those that experience it this time will perhaps be able to at a later time, in a later incarnation, be able to use that knowledge in a more powerful way. Do you have questions about this?

Q2: Will this projection of US power overseas to correct this situation, as the US sees it, have longer term ramifications with dissent, affecting future governmental formations and relationships?

LBs: As we said to you before, you might want to look at the history of England or Greece. It will give you some inclination about where the United States is headed unless they make some drastic changes and recognize that the ego is driving most of the people who are the leaders of the country. And also, there is an agenda that is not made known to the general public concerning this so-called war, and it has to do with more of [an] economic foothold, so-to-speak, more of a need to own resources that are not really.....it is a real difficult thing to understand....again, the United States has leaders also, that have a great learning about power. And because one is not directly involved in the conflict does not mean that they are not understanding their part in the use of power. And so there is a great learning there not only for the individual, but for the country, and yes there will be a lot of dissension if the path continues as it is today because the consciousness is being raised in many, many in this country and other countries, and as the consciousness is raised the leaders will not be able to present something that is not of truth. So it will start being much more apparent why a country is in conflict, or is attacking another country. And it will be much clearer to the individual what needs to be done because of the rising of the consciousness and the vibrational shift. So it will not be as easy for the leaders of this country to demand the alliance of the individual as they have been able to do before.

Q3: And hide it around the shroud of patriotism?

LBs: That is correct. Because as one begins to raise their consciousness, one begins to recognize there is no separativeness. And so therefore, there is no reason to attack oneself. Do you see?

Q4: Well, I want to take some kind of responsible action, but I want to take action from a place of awareness.

LBs: And if you want to take action, the way to take action is to come from a place of love, not fear. You see, when you concentrate on wanting the war to be over, or not wanting the war to take place, or not wanting to be in conflict, you are coming from a place of fear. And that is difficult for you to understand, I am sure.

But if you're coming from a place of love you are not as concerned about the actual incidences as you are concerned about staying at peace within so that everything that you surround yourself with is of peace.

Q5: So the most powerful way we can be of influence is to be in the state that we were in tonight in the circle?" [The group tonight did toning to open their hearts and free their bodies from the day's stresses, and it worked in opening them.]

LBs: Absolutely, because that vibration extends out and begins to touch others, and as you go about your own business you come into contact with hundreds of people in a day's time, and each of you if you are in peace and harmony are going to be able to effect each of those you come into contact with, and then that is the ripple effect. It will begin to spread itself out. And that is why it is so important for any Light Worker or any entity that has the desire to walk the path; the surest way to be able to take the greatest action is through being; being peace. Because you yourself do not have the ability to control, to really make any difference in the decision about how many ships are sent, or how many soldiers are sent. You have no ability to control that. But you have the greatest ability to control what goes on in your own thoughts. And every thought is a vibration, an energy that affects the world. Does that help?

Q6: t does? Is Saddam still alive?"

LBs: As we told you before, he actually made preparations to be able to flee at the necessary time. And, yes, but is probably in Turkey."

Q7; So, are they going to find him?

LBs: There are many, many things that can happen to change what decisions will be made, both by him and by those that surround him. So it is difficult to say at this time."

Q8: Is it important to know sometimes that you just can't do anything? You just have to "be"; in other words, "do" nothing?

LBs: You are doing more than any.....you are doing by Being, more than any other action you can take. Because that is bringing out what your essence is. And that is able to actually make more of an impact on those that you come in contact with but, also, as you send your energy out, more of an impact farther out than actions will.

Q9: I feel like I'm trapped in a room that has a hot stove in the corner, and I know if I touch that hot stove I'm going to get burned. And so, I've learned that lesson already, and I choose to step aside from the hot stove. But I'm still aware it's in my field...."

LBs: Yes, but also you must be aware a hot stove can also cook meals."

Q10: I was using the analogy of a hot stove to the war."

LBs: And that is what we are saying. This war will give many the opportunity to make many choices about how they are going to respond. And there will be multiple lessons in those choices. Every soldier will have the choice of how to respond when they are in combat, when they arrest a fellow soldier from the other side, how they will treat that human being. Every soldier has choices in this drama they are playing out. And you must remember also that those that are fighting made a choice to be a fighter. They were prepared to fight. So this is not sending people who had not chosen this way of life. And so your next question is then, no doubt, what about those children, and women, and men that are dying and did not chose combat? But, again, each have their lessons, and each will have choices about the interaction they will have. And yes, it is not the preferred way, but it is a drama that is presented that will give many the opportunities for expansion and growth.

Q11: And love.

LBs: And love. Just as you choose a disease, it will give you that kind of ability.....If you, for instance, developed cancer and knew you had three months to live; you have some real choices to make, do you not, about how you're going to spend those three months? You have choices about learning how to react to the information, making some effort to understand what has happened, learning acceptance, there are many, many lessons you're going to learn from that disease before you make the transition. And so it is the same thing when one is involved in a war, there are many, many choices and many lessons that will be learned. It definitely is not the easier way for one to learn their lessons, but, again, because you are living in a planet of duality, you have a darker side that manifests, and there are those that choose to play in that playground.

Moderator: Thank you very much, Light Beings, it's been 20 minutes and Joyce would like to take a break.

LBs: Yes, we would like to say one more thing before we go. Those of you that find fear in your heart because of the war, if you can possibly understand that you are not truly living what you present as your belief system if you allow that fear to reside. Because each of you knows there is no termination of self and that there is no separation from the Source. And if you can replace that fear with love and that knowledge, then you're going to find that, yes, you will not like the war and what is happening, and you will not particularly agree with the leaders that made that choice, but you will find compassion within you for all that is transpiring. And in that compassion you will send the energy of love to all that are involved. And if enough of you do that you will be able to bring light to many so that it will not be such a long, drawn out situation, but can terminate fairly quickly with much learning.

Q12: Just one quick question. That love toning that we were doing, would that be a good way of clearing the energy in a room?

LBs: That would be an excellent way of clearing not only the energy in a room, but clearing your own energy. So, yes, that is an excellent way to clear. Not so much clear, as sort of expand.

Q13: So would one then clear first, and then expand, or can it take care of both?

LBs: Ah, yes. Anytime you can use that kind of vibration, the love vibration, in any area, it raises the level of energy.

Group: Thank you Light Beings.

LBs: You're more than welcome.
